

LUIS DE JESUS LOS ANGELES

1110 Mateo Street, Los Angeles CA 90021
213 395 0762 | gallery@luisdejesus.com
luisdejesus.com

HYPERALLERGIC

10 Art Shows to See in Los Angeles This October
By Matt Stromberg | October 02, 2025

Frank Romero: California Dreaming

Luis De Jesus Los Angeles, 1110 Mateo Street, Downtown, Los Angeles
Through October 25

Surreptitious Stripes, an exhibition of work by Francisco Masó (Havana, 1988), was held from July 20 to August 19 at the Connect Now Room of the Arts Connection Foundation in Miami.

California Dreaming presents new work by pioneering Chicano artist Frank Romero alongside a selection of iconic older works from his six-decade career. The exhibition includes paintings as well as wood and neon sculptures that portray quintessentially LA elements he returns to again and again: freeways and landmarks, palm trees, cacti and other desert flora and fauna, and the ubiquitous automobile. Into these scenes, he has added a new motif: flying saucers, which signify both a Hollywood nostalgia and an allusion to rising xenophobia. These works are accompanied by new still-lives of objects Romero has gathered on his travels, highlighting the rich cultural nexus he pulls from.